

Los Luceros HACIENDA Gin

Los Luceros HACIENDA Gin derives its name from our historic property. The distillery was originally Los Luceros Winery, which was the second straw bale built winery in the United States. The filigree border on the label resembles antique money, a nod to the fact that spirits were historically used as a medium of exchange.

Los Luceros HACIENDA Gin is the only potato based London Dry style of gin. It is produced in small batches in our copper Alembic still which was custom made by Arnold Holstein of Bavaria, Germany. The still utilizes a botanical chamber where fine herbs, medicinals and botanicals are placed in muslin teabags, allowing essential oils to be extracted from a blend of twenty ingredients from around the world, including Sicilian Bergamot peel and organic Croatian Juniper.

Los Luceros HACIENDA Gin has seductive nuances and a sophisticated flavor profile with citrus overtones and a fragrant backbone of organic Croatian juniper.

Produced in small 100 gallon batches; hand bottled, numbered and dated.

40% ABV (80 proof)
